December 1, 1981

To His Excellency
Richard A. Snelling
Governor of Vermont

Dear Governor Snelling:

I am pleased to present the Annual Report for the Insurance Division of the Department of Banking and Insurance for the year ended June 30, 1981 as required by Title 8, V.S.A., § 73.

This past year saw the passage of significant legislation in the Special Insurer Act permitting "captive" insurance companies to form in Vermont. These companies are insurance subsidiaries of large corporations and insure the risks of the parent company. The new law is the most liberal and attractive enabling legislation to be adopted by any state and has been greeted with considerable fanfare nationally as well as in those foreign countries, such as Bermuda and the Cayman Islands, where the majority of captive insurers have formed to date. Designed to encourage the formation of these specialized insurance companies in Vermont, the Special Insurer Act grants certain regulatory freedoms in return for a physical presence here in the state which will generate economic activity benefitting Vermont. There has been tremendous interest in the Special Insurer Act. Recently, BF Goodrich established the first insurance subsidiary pursuant to the law, First Charter Insurance Company, and through its management company opened a local office. The decision to create such a subsidiary is not made quickly however, and current discussion and negotiations should produce a significantly greater number of companies next year at this time.

This past year has also produced mounting concern with health care costs. The public has expressed itself more vocally than ever regarding the apparent inability to contain the cost of medical services. The extent of public participation in health insurance rate hearings has increased dramatically and we are now beginning to see the signs of increasing frustration with this upward spiral. Although health insurance premiums largely reflect underlying medical costs, it is a measure of the frustration that this Department is frequently asked to deny rate relief as a means of "sending the message" to the health care community. I do not accept this as a responsible solution, however third party payers can play a significant role in eliminating inefficiencies in the health care system and in providing appropriate incentives to health care providers to encourage the delivery of adequate medical services at the lowest possible cost.

The cost of health care is an extremely broad problem cutting across all aspects of our society. No one group or entity can possibly hope to solve the problem alone but in this emerging sensitivity to medical costs, I detect that a broad spectrum of concerned Vermonters may now be ready to address this issue on a comprehensive basis. Providers, payers and users must all cooperate in such an effort if meaningful progress is to be made.

On other routine matters, Vermont continues as a desirable insurance market due to its relatively stable legal climate coupled with an adequate but not excessive premium level. In the long run this has benefitted Vermonters by providing access to fair insurance markets free of some of the aberrations found in neighboring states.

There are now 674 companies doing business in Vermont (not including captive insurers) of which 22 are companies domiciled within this state. Premiums written in Vermont are $362 million and the premium taxes paid on this amount are $6,653,780.

In addition, business written in the surplus lines or non-admitted market amounted to $3,677,259 and generated $110,318 in premium taxes. Finally, prepaid health service plans (Blue Cross-Blue Shield, et. al.) received $57,388,000 of subscriber income and no taxes are paid on this.

As of June 30, 1981 there were 8,228 agents, brokers, adjusters, appraisers and consultants licensed by this Department. During the year 653 people sat for 881 separate examinations and achieved a 74% pass ratio. Revenues from this licensing activity were $147,154 and total Department reveneues from all activities were $394,640. Licenses are issued biennially in even numbered years, therefore revenues for this past year experienced the normal fall off for odd years; however, they were up considerably over the $277,744 figure for the comparable period ending June 30, 1979.

Actions against licensed individuals resulted in fines or administrative penalties of $1,730 as well as suspension or revocation of 2 licenses for improper activity. The Consumer Services Section processed 667 complaints, of which 315 were settled in favor of the complainant. In addition 748 inquiries were answered.

All in the Department continue to serve with enthusiasm despite increasing work loads. We will explore ways to fulfill our obligations and maintain the same level of service without adding unnecessary expense to the taxpayers of Vermont. This is the challenge for us all in these times.

Respectfully submitted,

George A. Chaffee
Commissioner
